

Turner flexible nylon 1946

Description

The head of the highly flexible turner 1946 is super thin and made of nylon. So it slides easily under sensitive food such as fried eggs, scallops or fine pastries and lifts and turns without risk of breakage. The nylon head makes sure it is very gentle to non-stick coatings of pans and baking sheets.

The 1946 range includes kitchen utensils for every day, all redesigned and unique in their handling. Made of brushed 18/10 stainless steel and with a solid material thickness, they are indestructible and withstand the rough everyday use in the restaurant kitchen as confidently as they impress at the buffet and at the table by their design. All parts of the series were put to the test and optimized in their function. Soup and sauce ladle pour drip-free, turner and spoon are strong and ergonomic and the skimmer provides large, square holes for perfect and clog-free drainage of liquids.

For uncoated pans, a full stainless steel flexible turner is also available as well as a rigid super sturdy turner for heavy foods and for serving.

"1946" combines triangles core values of quality, functionality and sustainability in perfection. And so company founder Erwin Hill, who laid the foundation stone for triangle in 1946, would have been proud of this series and thus inspired its name.

Stainless and dishwasher safe.
